As part of the transitional provisions of the amended Native Title Act in 1998, applications were taken to have been filed in the Federal Court. Any changes to these applications and the list of new applications happen through the Federal Court. The Tribunal records information on these matters in the Schedule of Applications (Federal Court). The map depicts the boundaries of claimant applications that are external all decisions of the Federal Court. To determine whether any areas fall within the external boundary of an application or determination, a search of the Tribunal's registers and databases is required. Further information is available from the Tribunal website at www.nntt.gov.au or by calling 1300 629 251. When the boundary of an application has been amended in the Federal Court, the map shows this boundary rather than the boundary as per the Register of Native Title Claims (NNTC) if a registered application. The applications shown on the map include:
 - registered applications (i.e. those that have complied with the registration test);
 - new and amended applications where the registration test is being applied;
 - unregistered applications (i.e. those that have not been accepted for registration);
 - compensation applications.
 Determinations shown on the map include:
 - registered determinations as per the National Native Title Registrar (NNTTR);
 - determinations where registration is conditional on other matters being resolved.
 Claiming is based on the information as held by the NNTT and may not reflect all decisions of the Federal Court.
